Annual meeting 2024 in Cagliari

This year's annual meeting will take place in Cagliari from 8th to 10th October 2024, hosted by Sara Carucci. For the first time, there will also be a community event for local and national clinicians and teachers on the 7th, prior to the main meeting. These are part of the EUNETHYDIS' "local footprint" activities. In addition, the main meeting incorporates a symposium with local speakers and an Italian keynote. Prior to the main meeting, the EUNETHYDIS European Guidelines Group (EAGG) and early career researchers also hold their own sessions. We are also glad that three new special interest groups (SIGs) were submitted and accepted, and will be held in the morning of the 9th and 10th. Results from the SIGs will be presented at the end of the main meeting. The programme will also include a members' meeting with awards and an international keynote, as well as two debates. Thanks to all members who submitted abstracts and contributed with ideas. Welcome to Sardinia.

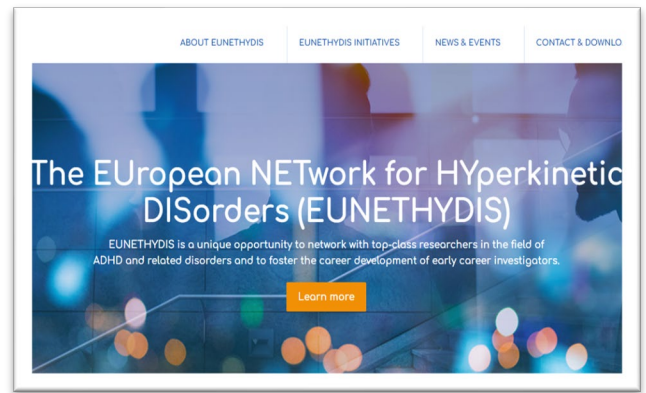

2025 meeting in Bonn

We are happy to announce that next year's annual EUNETHYDIS meeting will be held in Bonn, Germany. Dates are to be finalized, but we will aim for between the last week of September and mid-October. Our sincere gratitude to Alexandra Phillippsen, who has kindly agreed to host the meeting with her team.

Updates on our webpage eunethydis.eu

We are currently updating the network's webpages and have made good progress. The list of members, awards, steering committee and mission pages have been updated, and the rest is ongoing. Please have a look and feel free to send us feedback.
